We have received the first amendment to the survey area noted above. We have made additions to the correlation document as noted in the first amendment and as noted in red on the enclosed copy of that amendment. Please check these notations carefully to be sure they are correct. The proper identification legend and classification list in the form of an amended correlation document has been given to the editorial staff for use in typesetting the manuscript. There was no apparent need for changes in the manuscript, however, it will be cross-checked to be sure that all is correct.

Please let us know if this amendment, as noted, is correct. If it is, we will prepare a letter of concurrence. You might want to reissue this document so as to get a clean copy.
