Definitions:

Cropland as defined for this purpose includes row crops and harvested hay in rotation (six years or less since last hay renovation). CRP and other “undisturbed” covers are NOT considered cropland for T&E review purposes.

Farmstead is defined as an agricultural production site which may contain any of the following: livestock production buildings and associated lots, manure and feed storage structures, machine storage/repair facilities, residences AND the site is routinely disturbed by human and/or domestic animal activity.
