

WATERSPREADING SPECIFICATIONS

Ditches, dikes, and diversions shall be constructed to the planned alignment, grade, and cross section. The finished section shall be generally smooth and of good appearance. If native vegetation is included in the waterspreading plan, care shall be taken to prevent damage to it by construction equipment.

All related structures shall be located as shown on the plan or as staked in the field. Finished structures shall reflect good workmanship and shall meet the requirements of the appropriate NRCS standards for the structures.