

FIRE FEATURE INDICATORS

Other indications of fire features include charcoal stains. Note in this picture, some rocks have fragmented from heat. Heat affects stone in different ways depending on the type of stone material. The black basaltic stones in this picture are virtually unaltered, while the granitic stones are reddened or whitened and can be extremely fragmented.

Wyoming FOTG
Section II, Cultural Resources
August 2002