

IRRIGATION FIELD DITCH

Design and layout surveys will ordinarily be combined. Survey notes will include adequate information to establish needed water and ground surface elevations and shall include a layout sketch.

Design data may be in the form of notations in the field notes establishing capacity, and spacing between ditches.

Compliance checking of field ditches can be by observation of their operation or from discussion with the irrigator.

No "As-Built" plans are required.