RESOURCES FOR CONSERVATION PLANNING ON ORGANIC AND TRANSITIONING-TO-ORGANIC OPERATIONS

The attached document, Resources for Conservation Planning on Organic and Transitioning-to-Organic Operations, contains a brief description of organic and transitioning to organic systems from the perspective of NRCS. Also included is a resource list that can be useful to conservation planners who are working with clients to implement conservation practices on organic farms and ranches.

The document was authored by Sarah Brown, Ben Bowell and Carrie Sendak with Oregon Tilth.
