BIOLOGY TECHNIAL NOTE NO. 46

October 2007
(links repaired 02/2015)

This technical note transmits the document “Integrating Bird Conservation into Range Management”.

This document was produced by Rocky Mountain Bird Observatory (RMBO) in partnership with a number of groups and agencies including the Natural Resources Conservation Service. It has information on the habitat needs of Eastern Plains Grassland Birds that should be helpful to planners and landowners developing rangeland management plans.

The pocket guide to prairie birds compliments this document. There is also an interactive cd-rom to assist with bird identification by sight and sound. Please contact the NRCS State Biologist or RMBO for these additional materials.
