TECHNICAL GUIDE NOTICE-IL-1

The enclosed material is a major revision of the work unit technical guides.

Please remove the dividers, parts of Section II which are to be retained for use in the new guide, standards and specifications for engineering practices, and all of Section V from your old guide and place them in the new technical guide. The standards and specifications for engineering practices are to be filed alphabetically within the appropriate subsection as indicated by the Index for Section IV.

Any pertinent locally appropriate materials which are presently in Section I of the guide should be transferred to the new technical guide also.
