WEST VIRGINIA TECHNICAL GUIDE
SECTION II

NOTICE NO. 3-11

Purpose: To inform field and area offices of updated materials within Section II of the West Virginia Field Office Technical Guide (FOTG).

Effective Date: Upon Receipt

The Fact Sheet developed by Dave McGill of the WVU Cooperative Extension Service entitled Tree-of-heaven (Ailanthus altissima) control methods in broad-leaved forests of West Virginia is now available. It may be used in the development of practice plans for EQIP for Tree-of-Heaven control. West Virginia University Fact sheets are also linked within this section for Control of Autumn Olive, Multiflora Rose, and Tartarian Honeysuckle and relevant chemical information.

Also, the list of WV Waters of Special Concern has been posted under this section. West Virginia Waters of Special Concern is defined as waters within the State of West Virginia containing unique or exceptional aesthetic, ecological or recreational value and have been designated by Federal and/or State legislation for protection. This list may be used to determine if consultation or special permitting is needed prior to implementation for projects occurring in these waters.

This information is located in the FOTG, at: <http://www.nrcs.usda.gov/technical/efotg/> under Section II, F, "Noxious and Invasive Species Information" and D, "WV Waters of Special Concern".

If you have any questions or concerns please contact Patrick Bowen, State Resource Conservationist at (304) 284-7579.
